This Week's Treviglas Focus –

Perseverance

1. A Message from the Headteacher

Perseverance refers to the ability to pursue one's goals to completion, even in the face of challenges. It draws on our most positive characteristics and these also are the ones which support our well-being. Perseverance is closely related to optimism, valuing ourselves and our successes.

Perseverance requires continuous hard work, determination to overcome setbacks and single-minded focus over an extended period. Perseverance can be defined as grit, and gritty individuals persist in their quest to succeed despite setbacks, absence of positive rewards, boredom and slow progress.

I want to encourage everyone to reflect on the areas of their life where they persevere relentlessly and how they feel the rewards of this. We also must all look at how we develop perseverance in our young people. Our Cornerstones support this.

2. Mrs Suttle – English

Another great week for year 7 who are absolutely smashing Literacy Planet. Our top performers are Sophia, Amber and Layla with over 50 missions each. Well done! keep up the great work year 7.

3. Mrs Suttle – Wellbeing

The Anna Freud Centre's annual survey asks education staff across the UK to share their thoughts on mental health in schools and colleges. Your views will be used to shape the future work of the Centre, so that they can create resources and training on the topics that matter most to you. You are invited to complete the 5-minute survey by 4th April.

We will be analysing the data shortly to see what impact our EAP has had on supporting our staff - this will inform the areas of focus for schools in their individual Wellbeing Strategy.

4. Mr Colborne – Creative Arts

It's been an incredibly busy month in the creative arts faculty with a host of different events, visits and exams taking place.

Last week saw our first production in 4 years, with 1984 showing over three nights. Audiences responded really positively and recognised the talents of all the students involved, be they on stage, in the band, or supporting with tech. It was wonderful to welcome audiences back to Treviglas again, and discussions are underway about what to do next!

Last week also saw all of year 8 visiting Tate St.Ives and The Barbara Hepworth museum - we believe all our students should be able to access art, and we were delighted to see how positive the students were and how inspired they were by what they saw.

Wednesday 29th saw Year 10 and 12 drama students performing at Theatre Royal Plymouth. They performed an epic tale of a journey of self discovery in a challenging ensemble piece. Their energy and enthusiasm was amazing, and they performed really well.

On Thursday 30th we welcomed Charlotte Guerard, artist in for a workshop with some Year 10 art students, working towards an exhibition at C- Space in Newquay on Friday 31st March.

A huge well done to all the students involved in these events!
